

Speaker Recording Release Form

If permission is granted, the Simpson Center for the Humanities may use photographs, audio, or video recordings of speakers and their presentations on our website and social media, in print and digital materials, or in emails for educational or publicity purposes. Please understand that there is nothing in this Speaker Release requiring you to give your ideas to the Simpson Center, the University of Washington, or any other entity. The ideas you present will remain your own.

This release applies to photographs, audio, and video recordings collected as part of the event(s) listed on this form.

Please check each line that you consent to and reply by email to the Simpson Center's Communications Manager Carrie Bassett at carrie25@uw.edu:

- ☐ Photos, images, or likenesses of myself taken during the events may be used.
- ☐ My presentation materials - recorded through photography, screenshots, or other means - may be publicly shared after the event.
- ☐ Audio recording may be used in whole or in part on the Simpson Center's podcasts, including but not limited to "Going Public."
- ☐ Video recording of my events may be posted publicly on YouTube under the standard YouTube Creative Commons License with no expiration date; recordings may also be cross-posted on websites and social media by the Simpson Center and other units at the University of Washington.
- ☐ [Option only available for Zoom Events]: Video recording may be made available to University of Washington students, faculty, and staff only for 90 days following the date of presentation.
